HERE THEY ARE

The pretty things in Spring Jackets, Blazers, Reefers, with and without vest fronts, in Blacks and Colors, in Jersey Cloth, all wool Cheviot and fine English Whipcord Cloths. We have made special effort this spring to secure the BEST things possible adapted to our trade, and are showing very much the largest and best line of Spring Wraps and Jackets in this city. We also have a pretty Friday evening, March 27 line of Jackets for Children and Misses.

We have been receiving, the past few days, quite a good many new things in

OUR DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT. Particularly pretty things in fine Serge Suiting plaids at 50c. per yard; also, Camels-hair and Cheviot styles of plain and plaid cloths for early Spring wear, for dresses and long wraps.

We have some exquisite things in printed Drapery Mulls (same styles and colorings as the printed China Silk draperies) at 421, 15, and 18c. per yard. They are lovely; also, such pretty Dotted and Figured Swiss Curtain Mulls, with and without side borders. We show an unusual variety of time." The people of Ravenna will act in aceverything in this character of goods. We also have the nicest Brass Curtain Rod, for sash curtains, &c., something new and tasty, and not any more expensive than the old brass rod.

Our store is CHOCK FULL of good things. Of course we do not experience much trouble in keeping our Cash drawer in running order, these pleasant days, but this "calm that precedes the storm," we employ our time in opening and arranging our magnificent stock for the rush of trade that will surely come very soon.

Mrs. Jessie Howard, nee Horton, died at her of consumption, which dread disease had bee gradually undermining her health for some years. Since Thanksgiving it was evident that she had not long to live, and she resignedly yielded to the summons that called her from her couch of suffering, although earnestly desiring to live for her husband and three children, who are left in their sad bereavement of wife and mother. The youngest child is but eight months of age. The funeral of Mrs. Howard was held Sunday and the remains interred at Detreit, Jessie Horton was one of Rayenna's most es timable young ladies, and a beloved and favor ite member of the younger circles of societ Handsome, accomplished and talented, she ex emplified the qualities of mind and heart that endeared her to all classes, and her life was a fine example of those spent in fulfilling th highest obligations of duty while enjoying the pleasures which a kind fortune had thrown in their paths. Her amiable temperament and many virtues were the crowning graces of a life rounded to the completeness of moral, intellectual and social attainments. The Adelbert Club Concert.

The Adelbert College Glee and Banjo Clubs gave a concert of part songs, solos, and banjo music, last evening at Case Hall. Their manner, style and finish were such as to place them on a par with older clubs that come before the public. There has been great improvement in both clubs since they were last heard in this city. The banjo numbers were excellent, and the singing, especially the comic pieces, very finely done. Mr. W. C. Williams gave the recitative and aria "she Alone," from "Queen of Sheba," with fine effect Messrs. Preston and Kerruish sang a duet—"Romeo and Julist," to the delight of the audience. The humorous "Serenade," in which feline melodies are introduced, as written by Miss Marentia G. Stair, and sung by Mr. Kerruish and the club made a decided hit. The audience was a large one, notwithstanding the indexection. dience was a large one, notwithstanding the in-clement weather, and kept the clubs twice the length of the allotted program singing and play-ing encores.—[Cleveland Leader, March 20,

The Adelbert College glee and banjo clubs appeared before a large and delighted audience in Case Hall last evening and gave a splendid selection of College songs. The melodies were all of an amusing order and were vigorously applauded. Mr. W. C. Williams sang an aria. "She Alone." from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba," very effectively. His voice is good and he uses it well, The program opened with the "Aurora March" by the banjo club, and every number the club played was followed by an encore. Messrs. Preston and Kerruish sang a humorous trifle entitled "Romeo and Juliet," and as the voice of Mr. Preston, who was Romeo, was a light tenor, and as the organ of Mr. Kerruish, who was Juliet verged on a basso profundo, and as Mr. Preston was somewhat short and Mr. Kerraish somewhat elongated, the effect was vety amusing. The program was long and varied and the entertainment was really enjoyable. — Plain Dealer.
